"easily can be raised by internal taxation without appreciable burdens upon the American people."

Mr. McAdoo suggests a reduction in the income tax law exemption on single person from $3,000 to $2,000 and on married persons from $4,000 to $3,000. Charges in the new surtax imposed on incomes above a certain figure and new taxes on gasoline, crude and refined oils, horse power of automobiles, other internal consumption duties and various other things.

Like About

"In view of the many inaccurate and misleading statements which are being made, either deliberately or ignorantly, about the condition of the treasury and the finances of the government with respect to the current fiscal year and the fiscal year 1917, I feel that a true and accurate analysis of the situation may be of service to the public. The question of the national finances is so intimately related to other vital problems which must be settled in the interest of the American people that every right-minded citizen should want the truth in order that he may help form that intelligent public opinion out of which alone can arise sound and just conclusions. With this in mind, I desire to submit to the public the following information:

"We began the fiscal year 1916 (July 1, 1915) with a general fund balance, not including amounts to the credit of disbursing officers, of $194,170.15. Compared with the balance shown in the daily treasury statement on June 30, 1915, this is composed of the following:

"Balance in general fund June 30, 1915, as per treasury daily statement, $82,025,716. Add national bank note redemption fund, which by law is a part of the public debt and not to be set up as a liability of the general fund, of $3,390,945. Add cash deposits during the year 1915, and include in the revised totals, advances of which were received at the treasury after June 30, 1915, $1,754,034. Balance in general fund June 30, 1915 (revised basis), $104,170,105.

"Under existing law the present duty of 1 per cent per pound on raw sugar ceases May 1, 1916, and the present emergency revenue law expires on December 31, 1915. Assuming that these two sources of revenue are eliminated, the following results may be expected for the fiscal year 1916:

"General fund balance in the treasury July 1, 1915, as already shown, $104,170,105. The estimated total receipts for 1916 are $670,345,500. Total, $774,515,605. Total estimated disbursements for 1916, excluding Panama canal payments, $716,891,000. Surplus or balance June 30, 1916, $57,624,605.

"The duty on sugar and the emergency revenue taxes ought to be continued. If this is done the additional receipts from these sources for the fiscal year 1916 should be $41,000,000 from emergency taxes and $15,000,000 from sugar, $56,000,000. Balance $113,624,605."

New Way to Curl Hair Without Heated Irons

Hair tortured with the curling iron is bound to become dry, harsh and brittle, as so many know from sad experience. It's far more sensible to use plain liquid silmerine, which can do no harm and which produces the loveliest wavy effect imaginable. It takes so little time to apply the silmerine and the hair can be made to curl in any form, to any extent, to conform with any style of hair-dressing. A few ounces from the drugist will last a long time, so it is not at all expensive. Liquid silmerine is not greasy or sticky and it doesn't stick or streak the hair or the scalp. A convenient way to use it is to pour about two tablespoonsful into a saucer and then with a clean tooth brush apply evenly to the hair from root to tip. If this is done before retiring the added glory to one's "crowning glory" will be quite in evidence in the morning.

TRADESMEN ORGANIZE TO RESIST SHORTENING OF HOURS OF SALOONS

London, Nov. 26.—"No beer before dinner, no work before dinner," is the cry of the London trade unionists who are organizing to resist the new regulations shortening the hours during which the saloons may be kept open.

Meetings were held in different parts of the city last night to protest against the new regulations, which come into effect next Monday.

The workmen employed in the Smithfield markets have sent telegrams to all the labor members of parliament demanding that they "save London from tea-total tyranny."

ASK TONNAGE FOR EXTRA RUN OF FT. SMITH

with our No. 2. This train will wait at Falls for No. 5 and will then leave and reach Guthrie at about 10:40 a. m. The train will remain at Guthrie until 2:40 p. m. and then leave for Falls, arriving there in time to connect with No. 6 from Oklahoma City. It will then leave Falls on the arrival of No. 1 and would return to El Reno via Guthrie, arriving at Guthrie about 5:30 p. m. and at El Reno about 7:30 p. m.

From our past experience we conclude that such a train would be a loser. The question is how much, and how much freight business we can get from Guthrie to help make up the loss.

We ought to get some additional business from El Reno, but judging from our experience with the "Jitney" we can count on nothing from that city. As this train will be run at a loss the Receiver will not undertake it without the approval of the court. Such a train will have to receive the approval of Judge Youmans of Fort Smith and Judge Cotter of Guthrie and I am satisfied that it will be necessary to convince both of these judges that the loss will be very small in order to get their approval. For this reason I am writing you asking you to take the matter up with the Chamber of Commerce and have it canvassed very thoroughly.

Mr. Gibson expects to be in Guthrie on November 30th and I will endeavor to be there the same day and take the matter up with Judge Cotter. It will be necessary to get prompt action in order to begin the service on December 6th. I hope that you will be able to make such a showing in additional tonnage that can be relied upon that we can get the approval of the court to put on the train. It will be necessary, however, to be very conservative and make no promises that cannot be fulfilled. Yours very truly, A. L. Mills, receiver.

It was explained that the patrols were being placed and the guards increased throughout the city on this side of the line as a precaution against threatened looting.

Passes countersigned by Acting Governor Randall were repudiated on the Sonora side by Villa officers.

AGGIES GO TO DEFEAT BEFORE SOONERS

It required a special train of 16 coaches to convey the Stillwater contingent of the big football game between the Aggies and O. U. teams played at Oklahoma City Thanksgiving day.

For the first time since its organization the cadet corps of the agricultural college went outside of that city in a body. 500 strong the corps rooted valiantly for the Aggie team, but the husky boys from O. U. were too much for them. The final score stood 26 to 7 in favor of the "Sooners" from Norman.

The Cook's Best Secrets.

A delicious crust may be formed upon the top of a sponge cake by dusting it with powdered sugar before putting it into the oven.

Bananas fried in the fat remaining in the pan after sausages have been fried make a very nice dish to serve with the sausages.

Horseradish is the best relish for roast beef and for fish in general. When used for fish slices of lemon alternate with the little heaps of the horseradish.

When boiling fish add an onion to the water and sweet herbs tied in a piece of muslin. This is a French cook's recipe and very tasty.

A delicious little sweet for one's friends in the evening is whipped cream, stirred full of powdered macaroni crumbs and flavored with a little nutmeg. Serve this very cold.

Do not dress salads with sugar and vinegar or salt and vinegar; the latter is an admirable combination to scouring brass, but is not good for one's stomach. Use a mixture of oil and vinegar, lightly seasoned.

BUSY PERIOD IN OIL FIELDS DUE TO PRICES

PREDICTION MADE THAT CRUDE IN OKLAHOMA WILL REACH $2

Kansas City, Kan., Nov. 26.—With crude oil at $1 a barrel, the highest point it has reached in several years, the Oklahoma oil fields are now engaged upon their busiest period of petroleum production.

This is especially noticeable in the windward sand districts where small wells did not pay a profit on the recent low market, and in the Cushing field, where enormous wells at a greater depth are the rule. That petroleum will reach the "$2 mark" in Oklahoma, within the next six months is the general conviction among producers.

Since August crude oil has advanced from 40 cents a barrel, at which price it had been stationary for a long time, to the present schedule of $1. For the $2 notch to be reached within six months, the ratio of advance will not need be so great as it has been within the past ninety days.

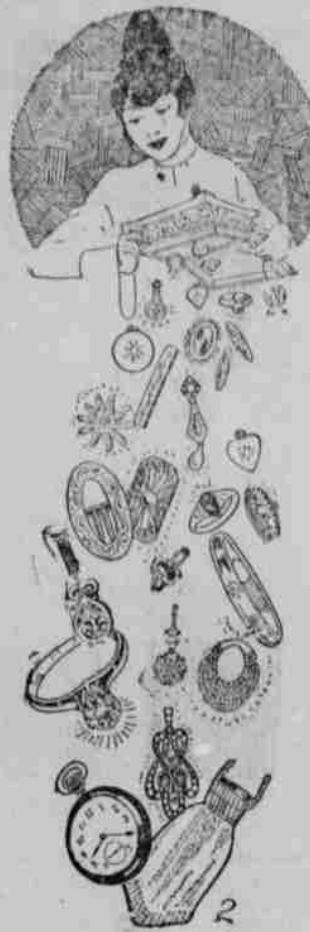

Henry H. Tucker, Jr., President of The Uncle Sam Oil company, the successful competitor of the oil trust, in discussing the current oil situation at "Independent" oil headquarters in this city said today:

"The present era is truly the 'age of oil.' There is a multiplied world-wide demand for the various refined products. Economic conditions of wide import are responsible for this. Both at home and abroad there is an increasing demand, the latter condition being caused by the prostration of the Baku and Balchik oil fields in Europe.

"The low price for petroleum which the oil trust sustained for so long, reduced its reserve stocks to a perilous margin, and as a consequence it is now engaged in a clamorous campaign for more production. A reprehensible practice it is pursuing in bringing this about is its industrial use, in the columns of trust-controlled newspapers, of 'oil romances' calculated to induce large numbers of the unwary to 'wildcat' across the oil business is now reaching its greatest height of importance. Indiscriminate drilling for wells by individuals and small companies, with but a limited acreage at their command, is to be deprecated because such movements simply play the game of the big chinch, which later comes along and gobbles up the properties thus pioneered. It has always been the policy of the oil trust to eliminate the hazard of discovering oil fields and of drilling for oil wells, so far as its own operations have been concerned. While the oil industry offers the largest opportunity for profit of any field of human endeavor yet it is replete with hazard. The more wells a company drills, naturally enough contributes to the better chance to make its properties pay, along in line with the law of general average. The risk legitimately run by producers has never appealed to the oil trust. It simply buys the petroleum when it is brought to the surface and invariably at its own price.

"The 'Independent' refineries which are dependent upon the market fixed by the oil trust for their petroleum, and which do not own production of their own, are having a hard time of it. A successful competitor of the oil trust, such as this organization has become, must have petroleum production of its own. The terrible experiences covering a period of forty years, during which time innumerable organizations have been 'beat over the hills' because they had to rely upon the oil trust for their supply of crude, proves absolutely that this is so. The Uncle Sam Oil company foresees the force of the world-events which has demanded of the oil trust that it augment its stocks of crude oil, expand its plant facilities and increase its output. In July this 'Independent' organization added to its valuable acreage in the proved Oklahoma pools by annexing a new rich tract in the Cushing field, the production of which has caused even the noted Glenn Pool to become but a faded memory. With the properties thus acquired we now have about 300 favorable locations for wells, which will fortify us against being injured in any manner by the manipulations of the oil trust.

"The 'age of oil' finds this 'independent" organization prepared to do immense things; to extend its distributing operations, which at present penetrate to several hundred towns scattered throughout several middle-western states, to farther-away territories, and to carry the battle of competition with the oil trust to wider points. Indeed so promising is the future of The Uncle Sam Oil Company that its stockholders today believe their properties to be worth fully $10,000,000. This valuation does not consider, nor take into account our immense lease in the Osage Nation on 426,000 acres of oil and gas-bearing lands, to secure the validation of which we are at present engaged upon a vigorous fight. In the coming session of congress the bill to validate this lease will command wide and enthusiastic support. In asking for the approval of this lease we are submitting for the consideration of the federal government the first definite measure ever proposed to control oil monopoly. This consists in the insertion of a clause in this lease, as in all other mineral leases on Indian-owned and government-owned lands, vesting authority with the state utility commission to fix the prices to the consumers in the various states in which the refined products, resulting from the development of such properties, are sold."

TULSA QUILTS COTTON.

Tulsa, Okla., Nov. 26.—That Tulsa county, which in past years has been a large producer of cotton, this year practically abandoned the "fleece," is shown by the ginner's report up to Nov. 20. Up to that date but 168 bales of cotton had been ginned in Tulsa county, as compared with 4,182 bales at the same time in 1914. The cotton acreage in 1916 will be even less than this year, as farmers of this county are turning largely to stock raising and dairy farming, which have proved very profitable.
